The Mill

Point to the water
Point to the land
There's no beginning
There is no end

Bear me a witness
To calm and to storms
To sadness and triumph
To coming back home

Oh make it turn again
Help make it turn again

Birds fly in circles
Greeting the sea
Their songs fill the air
As they pass over me

Point to the water
Point to the land
There's no beginning
There is no end

Oh make it turn again
Help make it turn again

Fish Out Of Water

After all these years
It's the same old fears
That freeze you from inside
And there is no excuse
For the time that you lose
And all the dreams you hide

Fish out of water
Washed up on the beach
Longing for the ocean
So close yet out of reach
How did you even get here
Gasping for air?
Sails on the horizon
Does anybody care?

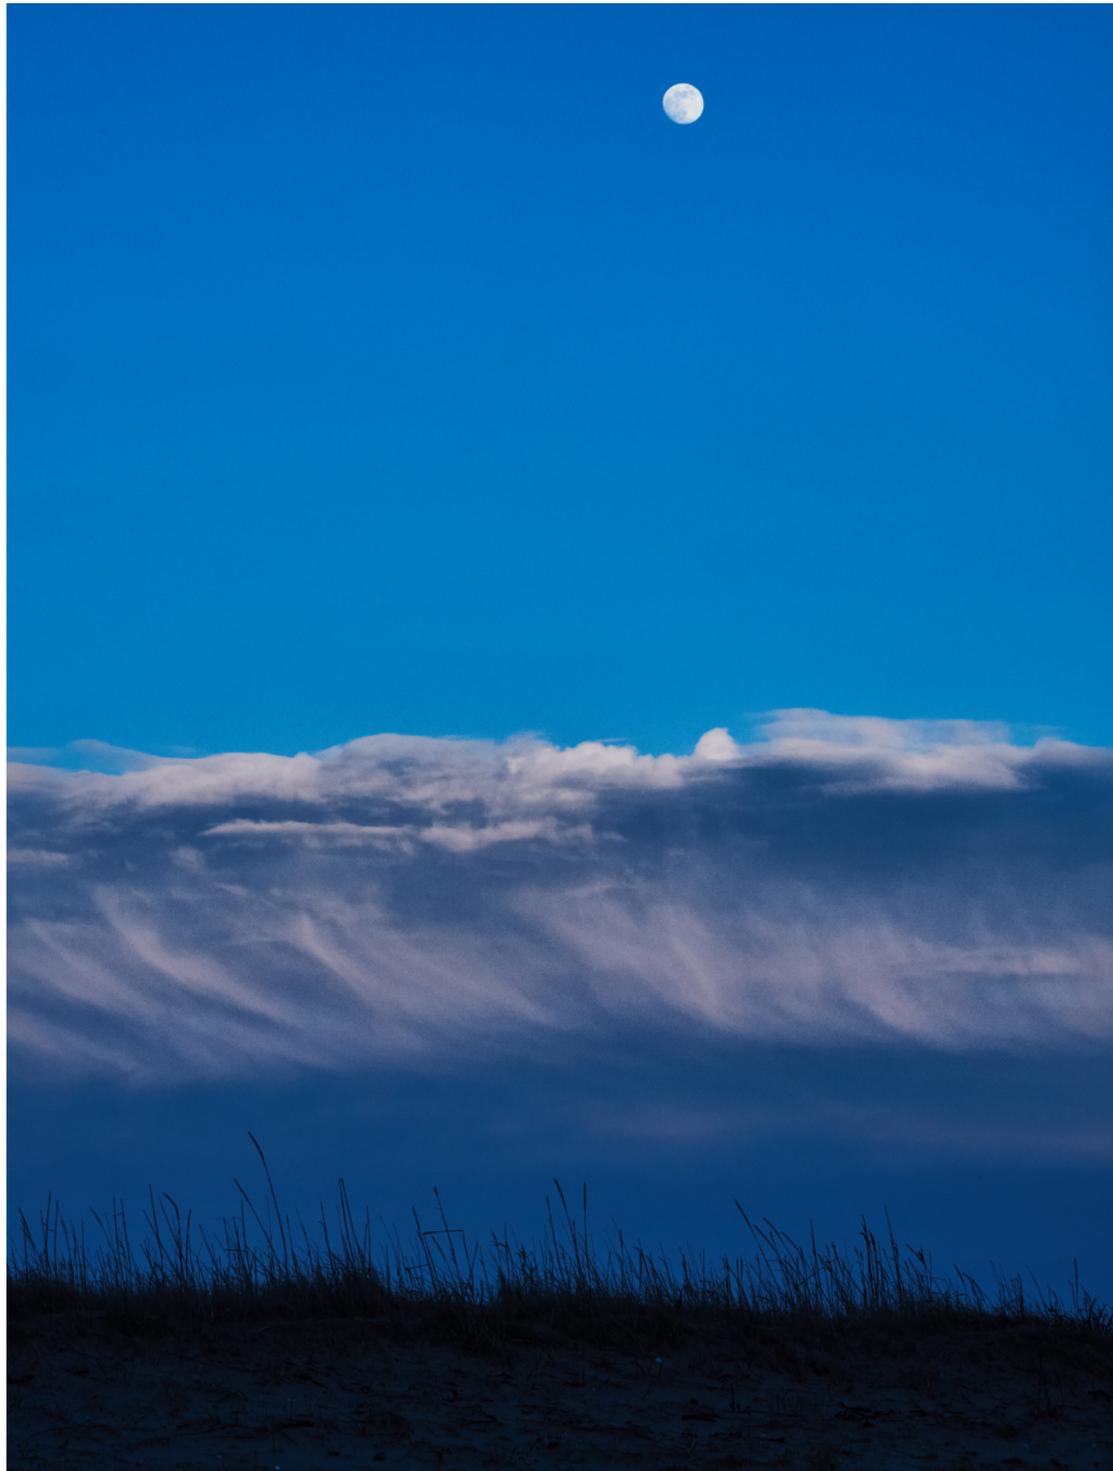

All the summer days
They just went away
Like all your fair-weather friends
How they used to cheer
When the way was clear
Now you're playing to empty stands

Fish out of water
Driftwood on the shore
Every piece a story
Echoes evermore
Fish out of water
Drying in the sun
People passing by
No one stops or turns

Fish out of water
King without a crown
In the land of the blind
There's a rumor going round
Fish out of water
Can you hear the sirens sing?
Hold on just a little longer
See, the tide is coming in

The World That I See

The world that I see
Seems so different now

The wind in the trees
Sings a different song

And if only
I could hold it
I could keep it
Just for a while

Something so pure
Something so precious
Like a dream come to life

The world that I see
Is so beautiful

Sublime, painted in hues
Of hope and grace

And if only
I could hold it
I could keep it
Just for a while

Something so pure
